Online Interactive Video

Edpuzzle is a great way to take sections of videos and add your own voice or questions within the video. Search for educational videos from various sites, such as YouTube, Khan Academy, and more. Follow the on-screen directions for chopping the video for the section that you need, adding your own voice, and choosing where to add text-based questions.

In the Classroom (Grades K–12)

- Create short review videos or use your own narration with chosen videos to create flipped lessons for your students.
- Consider the power of students using Edpuzzle to annotate videos in order to explain the material in their own words.
- You or your students can use the tool to create and narrate how-to videos.
- Annotate by highlighting the important aspects of videos through the creation of voice comments.

Site Features

- Parent permission is advised before posting student work created using this tool.
